FREE THROW HIGH

Two days after shooting 18-18 from the free throw line against Austin Peay, the Wildcats went 17-19 from the charity stripe.

After shooting just 66 percent from the line in the team's first 10 games, the Cats have hit for 94.6 percent in their last two games.

Individually, DeMarcus Cousins and Patrick Patterson have shown the most improvement. Cousins was hitting just 51.8 percent from the line in his first nine games, but has hit 17 in his last three games.

Patterson has hit 15 of his last 18 free throws after starting off hitting 51.7 percent of his shots through his first six games.

BOMBS AWAY

The early knock on the Wildcats was that the team couldn't shoot from the outside. The Wildcats have slowly crept to the top of the SEC in three-point percentage (42.1) while shooting 61.5 percent (24-39) from behind the arc in the last three games.

CALIPARI'S TEAMS TOUGH AT THE TOP

When teams are ranked in the top five, they become huge targets for all opponents they play. That has been true for John Calipari-coached teams at his last three stops. But, while some top-ranked teams fall easily, Calipari squads have done quite well, and in turn, have had staying power near the top of the polls.

Calipari's Kentucky, Memphis and UMass teams have an impressive combined record of 148-13 (.919) when ranked in the top five of the Associated Press.

Kentucky is 12-0 when ranked in the top five under Calipari. At Memphis, Calipari's teams are 81-7 when ranked in the top five. During his time at UMass, the Minutemen went 55-6 when ranked in the top five. The following shows Calipari's record when ranked at or near the top:

CAL IS COMFORTABLE AT HOME

Since the 2000 season, John Calipari coached teams have posted a 161-19 record at home. This season, UK has tallied a 7-0 mark at home.

PASSING RUPP

UK head coach John Calipari is off to an 12-0 start in his inaugural season at Kentucky. His 12 straight wins to start his UK career is something to be proud of, as it marks the best start by a Kentucky coach in UK history. Calipari passed Adolph Rupp's 10-game winning streak to begin his career at Kentucky in 1931.

Rupp won 10 games before collecting his first loss. Joe B. Hall won his first game before dropping his first game. Eddie Sutton then won his first five games before losing at Kansas. Rick Pitino won a game before dropping his first game, while Tubby Smith won two before losing his first game. Billy Gillispie also won one game before dropping his first game.

Located in Long Beach, Calif. (2,181 miles west of Lexington), Long Beach State is a member of the Big West Conference.

The 49ers enter the game with a 6-5 record and are coming in off a long road trip from Los Angeles where they dropped an 85-50 game to the Loyola Marymount Lions, despite a 22-point, 18-rebound effort from T.J. Robinson.

The 49ers are led all around by Robinson who is averaging a team best 17.0 ppg, as well as 10.7 rebounds, which also leads the team.

Long Beach State was on a modest two-game winning streak before its loss in Los Angeles.

Dan Monson is in his third season at Long Beach State, where he has tallied a 27-45 (.375) mark. He is in his 13th season as a head coach and has put together a 197-168 (.540) mark.

FRESHMEN RECORD BOOK

Early on in the season and the UK freshmen record book has been rewritten several times.

It began with Eric Bledsoe who tallied 24 points in his season debut, the most by a UK freshman in a season opener.

John Wall set a UK freshman record for assists in a game with 14 against UNC Asheville. He also recorded the third most steals by freshman with six against UNC Asheville and UConn.

DeMarcus Cousins recorded the second most rebounds for a UK freshman when he pulled down 18 against Sam Houston State.

TOUGH SCHEDULING

UK head coach John Calipari made no bones about it when he took the job at Kentucky that we wanted to play the best of the best. He has followed through with his promise loading the Cats' schedule with several "mid-majors" that were pre-season picks to win or finish high in their conference.

School	Preseason Pick
Morehead State	Picked to share OVC title
Sam Houston State	Picked to win Southland
Rider	Picked 3rd in MAAC (received No. 1 vote)
Cleveland State	Picked 3rd in Horizon (received two No. 1 votes)
UNC Asheville	Picked 2nd in Big South
Austin Peay	Picked 3rd in OVC
Long Beach State	Picked to win Big West

UK STANDS OUT IN SEC

Kentucky is one of only two schools in the SEC (LSU) to have three players rank in the Top 15 in scoring in the league and two players in the Top five in rebounding. The Wildcats are represented by John Wall (3rd - 17.8), Patrick Patterson (5th - 17.3) and DeMarcus Cousins (14th - 14.9), while Patterson ranks third with 8.8 rpg and Cousins ranks fifth averaging 8.7 rpg.

As a team, the Wildcats lead the league in field goal percentage (.501), three-point percentage (.421), rebounding offense (42.5), rebounding defense (30.1), rebounding margin (+12.4), offensive rebounds (15.6) and offensive rebounding percentage (46.5).

Individually, Patterson leads the league in field goal percentage (.632) and John Wall tops the SEC in assists (7.0).

ASSIST BY JOHN WALL

Freshman John Wall is looking to rewrite the record books when it comes to assists.

The young Wildcat already has a couple double-digit assist games and against UNC Asheville came within one assist of the school record of 15 set by Travis Ford in the 1993-94 season.

He's currently averaging 7.0 and with 19 regular season games and at least one postseason game left that translates to 217 assists by season's end, far surpassing the UK freshman record (126 by Dirk Minniefield, 1979-80) by almost a hundred assists.

LAST TIME OUT

The Cats claimed an 88-44 victory over Drexel in their historic 2,000th victory, led by DeMarcus Cousins' 18 points and a game-high 13 rebounds in only 14 minutes of action. It was his fifth double-double of the season. Patrick Patterson also shared game-high scoring honors with 18 points, while freshman John Wall finished with 16 points and seven assists.

UK outrebounded the Dragons 45-22, the second straight game with a +20 rebound edge. UK also

WILDCATS DOUBLE UP

Patrick Patterson has tallied five double-doubles so far this season, which ranks third in the SEC and 14th nationally. Patterson currently has 26 career double-doubles which is the most among active SEC players and tied for ninth in UK history.

DeMarcus Cousins has also tallied five double-doubles this season, ranking third in the SEC.

John Wall has two double-doubles, both in points and assists. He became the first Wildcat to record a double-double in assists since Cliff Hawkins in the 2004 season.

UK WINNING IN UNFRIENDLY CONFINES

Kentucky's win at Indiana marked the second-straight game the Wildcats were able to break a winless streak in an arena other than their own.

Before beating the Hoosiers in Assembly Hall, the Cats hadn't won there since the 1980-81 season.

UK's win over Connecticut at Madison Square Garden on Dec. 9 was the program's first victory in that venue since 1995.

SEC DOMINATION

Since the SEC's inception in 1932-33, the Wildcats have been the most dominant team in the league, recording an 861-241 mark (.781). Only one other team has won more than 690 regular season SEC games (Alabama) and no other team has a better winning percentage. UK has averaged 11.5 wins and only 3.2 losses per season in 75 seasons in the SEC.

- The Wildcats have won 43 SEC titles and 25 SEC Tournament Championships, more than the other 11 teams combined.

- Kentucky has won 10 of the last 18 SEC Tournament titles.

- UK has won 11 SEC East titles in the 18 seasons since the league expanded.

NATIONAL EXPOSURE

Kentucky has 15 games on CBS, ESPN or ESPN2 this year. The Wildcats first appeared on national television against North Carolina on CBS in Rupp Arena, followed by an ESPN game against UConn and a CBS affair at Indiana.

UK has a total of nine more games televised on ESPN/ESPN2 and three games left on CBS.

THREE MANIA

UK has the nation's third-longest active streak of consecutive games with a made three-pointer. UK has hit a three-pointer in 723 consecutive games, which trails only UNLV and Vanderbilt.

The Wildcats' last game without a three-pointer came 19 seasons ago against Seton Hall on Nov. 26, 1988, a "three-point" loss in the Great Alaska Shootout.

UNLV and Vanderbilt have hit a three-pointer in every game since the three-point rule was adopted to start the 1986-87 season. Through Dec. 21, the Rebels' streak is 748 games, while Vanderbilt's streak is 740 games.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE

The Wildcats set their second attendance record of the season against North Carolina, announcing a Rupp Arena record 24,468 in UK's 68-66 win over the Tar Heels.

In Kentucky's home-opener, the Wildcats announced 24,338, a record for home-openers in Rupp Arena.

UK announced 24,354 in its 2,000th win over Drexel. It was the 11th largest crowd in Rupp Arena history and the second largest this season.

CATS ROCK AT RUPP ARENA

- UK has won 92 of its last 115 home games. The Cats are 7-0 at home this season. The Wildcats are 434-60 (.879) all-time in Rupp Arena.

- UK has won 20 national attendance titles in the building, including 13 of the last 14.

- The Rupp Arena attendance record of 24,468 was set in 2009 against North Carolina on Dec. 5.

PATTERSON, WALL ON NAISMITH WATCH LIST

Patrick Patterson and freshman John Wall were both named to the Naismith Preseason Watch list as announced by the Atlanta Tip-Off Club.

Patterson, a pre-season All-American is making his second straight appearance on the Naismith watch list.

Wall is one of five freshmen on the watch list. A pre-season All-American according to several national publications, Wall was the top recruit in the country last season according to Rivals.com.

The watch list was compiled by the Atlanta Tipoff Club's Board of Selectors, which based its criteria on player performances from the previous year and expectations for the 2009-10 college basketball season. The Naismith Trophy presented by AT&T will be awarded at the 2010 NCAA Men's Final Four in Indianapolis, Ind.

PATTERSON, WALL NAMED PRESEASON ALL-SEC

SEASON NOTES

STACEY POOLE JR. SIGNS WITH UK

Stacey Poole, Jr. signed a National Letter of Intent to play basketball at the University of Kentucky.

A senior at Providence High School in Jacksonville, Fla., Poole is ranked the fourth best small forward (27th overall) by Rivals.com recruiting service and the 11th best small forward (58th overall) by Scout.com.

The 6-foot-5, 190-pound Poole, a first-team All-First Coast selection last season, averaged 17.3 points per game his junior season at Jackson High School.

He is the son of former University of Florida standout Stacey Poole, who still ranks as the Gators' No. 4 all-time scorer with 1,678 points.

Poole is the first signee for the Wildcats of the 2010 class.

His home-court streak spans 48 years and 698 games. During that period, which dates back to 1960-61, UK has a home record of 613-85 (.878).

CAT FACTS

U-S-A, U-S-A, U-S-A!!

The UK basketball program has always had strong ties with the United States Basketball program. Joining the likes of the 1948 Olympic Gold medalist Wildcats, and the most recent gold medal winning Wildcat, Tayshaun Prince, is Darius Miller.

The 6-7 sophomore was selected to the U19 US national team who helped lead to the U19 World Championship.

Miller led the team with 12 blocked shots in nine games, while averaging 5.0 ppg and 3.1 rpg.

Also representing the US during the offseason were newcomers DeMarcus Cousins and John Wall. Both played for the 2009 USA Nike Hoop Summit Team that went up against the World Select Team, suffering a 97-89 loss. Wall finished the game with 13 points, 11 assists and five steals, while Cousins tallied four points and five rebounds.

Social Networking

UK head coach John Calipari has wasted no time embracing his social responsibilities as basketball coach. Within a few weeks of taking the job, Calipari joined the popular networking tool Twitter and now has over 1,000,000 followers. He has also created his own Facebook page, as well as launching his own website, CoachCal.com.

West Coast Cats

While most of their teammates spent the summer taking summer classes or playing pick-up games in Lexington, Patrick Patterson and Daniel Orton spent their time in California for two months training for the upcoming season.

The two big men enlisted in a camp designed to improve basketball skills, while at the same time increasing their strength and stamina.

The King Visits Camelot

The King finally visited Camelot.

College basketball's greatest tradition and basketball's most visible star came together in August afternoon at Kentucky's campus. LeBron James, the 2009 NBA MVP, flew into Lexington to tour UK's basketball facilities.

King James and Kentucky have long been viewed as two of the most iconic figures and programs in basketball for some time, but Friday was the first time the two had come together. Even though James never attended UK or college for that matter - he was the No. 1 pick in the 2003 NBA Draft - UK head coach John Calipari and James have had a budding friendship recently.

When Calipari heard James was interested in touring UK's basketball facilities on his way to an event in Mississippi, Calipari and his staff set up a mock recruiting visit.

Wildcats Earn APR Award

The University of Kentucky men's basketball team received the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR) awarded for its APR score.

UK receives the award for placing in the top 10 percent of the nation's Division I men's basketball APR scores. The APR marks are a four-year composite, covering the 2004-05, 2005-06, 2006-07 and 2007-08 school years, that measures academic eligibility and retention of student-athletes.

UK was the only men's basketball team in the Southeastern Conference to receive a public recognition award.

JOHN CALIPARI FILE

After bringing the University of Massachusetts basketball program to national prominence in the '90s and resurrecting the Memphis basketball program in the 2000s, John Calipari became the 22nd coach in UK history, and the seventh in the last 79 years.

In 1996, Calipari moved from UMass to the NBA after leading the Minutemen to the Final Four. For his efforts, Calipari was named Naismith National Coach of the Year.

Calipari led the Tigers to the 2008 NCAA title game, and Memphis' 38 wins in 2007-08 made him the winningest coach for a single season in NCAA history. As a result, Calipari was named Naismith National Coach of the Year for a second time in his career. He is only the second coach to receive the honor multiple times since the award's inception in 1987. Duke's Mike Krzyzewski is the other to do so.

Calipari, the 2009 Sports Illustrated National Coach of the Year, led the Tigers to nine-straight 20-win campaigns and nine-consecutive postseason appearances, the only Memphis coach to do that. He posted 252 wins — 28 wins per season — as the Tigers' head coach, making him the winningest coach in school history.

Calipari's success began in his first season at Memphis, but it was the last four years that placed him in the NCAA and school record books. The Tigers' 137 wins the last four seasons made Calipari the winningest coach in a four-year span in NCAA Division I history. His 104 victories in the last three seasons are the second-most in NCAA Division I history over a three-year span.

He directed the Tigers to the top of both national polls in 2007-08, becoming the fifth coach in NCAA Division I history to take two different schools to the No. 1 ranking. Calipari led UMass to No. 1 in 1996. He joined Roy Williams, Ralph Miller, Frank McGuire and Eddie Sutton in that elite club.

The last four seasons, Calipari directed the Tigers to four-straight 30-win campaigns and is the first coach in NCAA Division I history to record four-straight 30-win ledgers.

With his success at Memphis, Calipari's overall record soared to 445-140 for an impressive 76.1 winning percentage. His 445 wins are the second-most in NCAA Division I history in the first 17 years, Roy Williams being the other.

Calipari's 76.1 winning percentage is the third-highest among active NCAA Division I coaches with 10 years experience at college basketball's Division I level, trailing only Roy Williams and Mark Few. On the NCAA Division I list for winning percentage for all coaches (minimum 10 years), Calipari is in 14th place and ahead of Krzyzewski, Jim Boeheim, Bob Huggins and Lute Olson.

With his four 30-win seasons at Memphis, Calipari now has six for his career, which is the fourth-most for a head coach in NCAA Division I history. For his career (16 years), Calipari has 15 20-win seasons and nine 25-win campaigns.

Much like he did at UMass, when his players graduated at nearly 80 percent, Calipari did the same at Memphis. Fifteen of the last 18 seniors that came through the Tiger program have earned their bachelor's degrees and the three seniors this season are on schedule to graduate in the spring of 2009.

Calipari compiled a 193-71 record (.731) during his eight-year career at Massachusetts, including a 108-44 mark (.684) in Atlantic 10 play. In addition to five-straight NCAA Tournaments, UMass also made two appearances in the NIT, advancing to the NIT final four in 1991. The 1990-91 season was the first of six-straight seasons in which the Minutemen won at least 20 games.

Calipari's personal 20-win streak has reached the 15-season mark as all of his Memphis clubs won 20-plus games. In his final season at UMass, Calipari was named the 1996 Naismith National Coach of the Year and The Sporting News National Coach of the Year. He was also named the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the third time in four years, as well as Basketball Times East Region Coach of the Year.

During the Minutemen's 35-2 season in 1995-96, UMass posted wins over Kentucky, Maryland, Wake Forest, Georgia Tech, Syracuse, Virginia Tech and Louisville. UMass ended the regular season ranked No. 1 in the nation in the final regular season poll after being the top-ranked team for nine weeks earlier in the year. The Minutemen also won their first 26 games of the season, setting a school record for most consecutive wins.

In addition to his National Coach of the Year honors in 1996, Calipari was a Naismith Coach of the Year finalist in 1994 and 1995. He was the USBWA District I Coach of the Year in 1993.

At 29, when he was named head coach, Calipari began to build a program from the ground up, going 10-18 his first season before posting a 17-14 record his second year (receiving a bid to the NIT).

The Minutemen won their first A-10 championship in 1992 with a 30-5 record, including a 13-3 mark in league play. With a 77-71 overtime win over Syracuse in an East Regional second-round game, UMass made its first NCAA Sweet 16 appearance.

Calipari left UMass in June of 1996 to become Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations and Head Coach of the New Jersey Nets. He led the Nets to a second-place finish in the NBA's Atlantic Division and the playoffs in 1998, ending a five-year postseason drought for the franchise. The Nets' 17-game turnaround from the previous year was the best that season in the NBA.

He became a member of the Philadelphia 76ers coaching staff in 1999, rejoining Philadelphia coach Larry Brown, for whom Calipari was an assistant at Kansas.

Calipari began his coaching career at Kansas as a volunteer assistant under Ted Owens. In 1983, he was hired as the recruiting coordinator at the University of Vermont, but was swayed back to the nation's heartland when Brown was hired as head coach at KU. He spent three seasons at Kansas (1982-85) before another three-year stint as an assistant coach to Paul Evans at Pittsburgh (1985-88).

The 50-year-old lettered two years at North Carolina-Wilmington before transferring to Clarion State. He played point guard at Clarion during the 1981 and 1982 seasons, leading the team in assists and free throw percentage. The Eagles were ranked in the Division II Top 20 both years and participated in the 1981 NCAA Division II Tournament.

Calipari and his wife, Ellen, have two daughters, Erin Sue and Megan Rae, and a 13-year-old son, Bradley Vincent. Erin recently graduated from UMass and is now in her first year of grad school at Wake Forest, while Megan is a sophomore at UK.

Cal Tid-Bits

- Since the 2005-06 season, Coach Calipari is 27-4 in December
- Has won 39 consecutive regular season games, dating back to Dec. 22, 2008. His last loss in a regular season game came on Dec. 20, 2008 vs. Syracuse.
- Has recorded a 40-4 record on the road dating back to 2005-06 season.
- Since taking over at Memphis in 2000, Calipari teams have posted a 161-19 record in home games.

Morehead State 59
Kentucky No. 4/5 75

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Kentucky freshman Eric Bledsoe scored 24 points while starting in place of John Wall, and the fourth-ranked Wildcats opened the John Calipari era with a 75-59 win over Morehead State on Friday night.

Patrick Patterson added 20 points - including his first career 3-pointer - to go with 12 rebounds, and Darnell Dodson scored 15 points as Kentucky (1-0) pulled away in the second half.

Kenneth Faried led Morehead State (0-1) with 17 points, but the defending Ohio Valley Conference champions couldn't keep up even with Wall sitting on the bench.

The Wildcats turned it over 24 times, made just four of 19 3-pointers and seemed to be indecisive while trying to decide whether to take an open shot or get to the basket.

Kentucky led 33-25 at the half and as the Wildcats slogged their way through the opening minutes of the second, the Eagles appeared to flirt - albeit briefly - with pulling a big upset at Rupp.

Calipari was brought in to return the blue bloods to greatness, and although he said before the game he wouldn't be surprised if the Wildcats opened 0-5, there was little doubt how much his first night as the coach of college basketball's all-time winningest program meant.

He stomped, he pleaded, he cajoled. He called a 30-second timeout after Faried dunked to pull the Eagles within 52-39 with about 9 minutes left, and slammed his fist a couple of times while urging his team to go play ball.

Bledsoe, almost an afterthought given all the hype surrounding the supremely talented Wall, wasted little time proving there's more than one freshman guard on the team who can be a blur when the ball is in his hands.

During one sequence Bledsoe fed a streaking Patterson for a lay-up, then followed a few moments later with a breathtaking coast-to-coast dash for another easy basket.

His best moment came later, when he knifed into the lane, absorbed contact and flipped the ball over his head with his back to the basket. The ball bounced off the rim several times before falling through the net.

The sellout crowd roared its approval, and Bledsoe kept them on their feet with another assist to Patterson on Kentucky's next possession. He later hit a fadeaway from 17 feet while falling on his backside, one of his few missteps.

Bledsoe walked off the floor to a standing ovation with 1:41 left and received some love from Wall. The two are expected to play alongside each other when the Wildcats play the RedHawks on Monday, part of a lineup that did little to dampen the high expectations set out by one of the country's most demanding fan bases.

Miami (Ohio) 70
Kentucky No. 4/5 72

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Kentucky coach John Calipari looked up at the clock after Miami of Ohio tied the fourth-ranked Wildcats with six seconds left and wondered if he should call timeout.

John Wall didn't give him a chance.

The heralded Kentucky freshman quickly grabbed the inbounds pass, raced by his coach in a blur and pulled up from 15 feet.

Before Calipari could collect his thoughts, Wall's jumper was through the net to give the Wildcats a 72-70 win Monday night and Kentucky's newest superstar was running down the floor pounding his chest in joy.

Wall finished with 19 points and five rebounds in his highly anticipated debut as the Wildcats (2-0) escaped the RedHawks (0-2).

He proved to be worth the wait. Wall's heroics prevented Miami from joining Gardner-Webb and Virginia Military Institute as November giant killers at Rupp Arena.

After the RedHawks took an 18-point lead in the first half. The only person who didn't seem to panic was Calipari, who said he wanted his talented but inexperienced team to be tested early in the year.

It didn't exactly seem like it after Miami's Kenny Hayes hit a 3-pointer to tie the game at 70. Yet Wall's heroics spoiled Miami's bid for an upset, not that it seemed to bother coach Charlie Coles.

One that wasn't quite enough to pull off another early season stunner at Rupp.

Wall got plenty of help in the second half as Kentucky used its size to overcome shoddy ballhandling and questionable shot selection.

Patrick Patterson had 17 points and 10 rebounds and DeMarcus Cousins had 10 points and 10 boards for Kentucky, which outrebounded Miami 37-25 and outscored the RedHawks 32-12 in the paint.

Nick Winbush led Miami with 26 points and the RedHawks nearly pulled off the upset thanks to making 15 of 26 3-pointers.

Wall wasn't perfect - he turned it over five times - but he looked at ease with the ball in his hands and hardly bothered with the hype surrounding his arrival.

He didn't waste any time getting comfortable, he drilled his first shot, a 3-pointer from the top of the key, to give Kentucky an early 8-5 lead.

Miami packed in its zone to cut off Wall and backcourt mate Eric Bledsoe from getting to the lane and didn't hesitate to lay a body on Wall's slender 6-foot-4 frame. He was bumped nearly every time he got into traffic and received a rude welcome to college basketball while running on the fast break midway through the first half.

Sam Houston St. 92
Kentucky No. 4/5 102

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- DeMarcus Cousins had 27 points and 18 rebounds to help No. 4 Kentucky outlast Sam Houston State 102-92 on Thursday night in the Cancun Challenge.

Patrick Patterson had 20 points and nine boards and John Wall added 21 points and six assists as the Wildcats (3-0) overcame a record-setting shooting performance by the Bearkats (2-1).

Sam Houston State (2-1) hung around deep into the second half behind stellar 3-point shooting, led by senior guard Corey Allmond, who poured in 37 points and made a Rupp Arena record 11 3-pointers. The Bearkats made 18 of 38 3-pointers and never let Kentucky get comfortable.

The Wildcats survived behind Cousins and Patterson, who had little trouble doing whatever they wanted against the shorter, smaller Bearkats. Kentucky outscored Sam Houston State 48-18 in the paint and held a 48-33 advantage on the boards while shooting 60 percent from the floor.

Still, it wasn't exactly the kind of crisp performance coach John Calipari was looking for after Kentucky narrowly escaped an upset bid by Miami (Ohio) on Monday.

Wall hit a last-second jumper to lift the Wildcats to victory against the RedHawks.

There were no such heroics necessary this time, but the joy felt during Wall's dynamic debut was replaced with a sense of unease as Kentucky allowed another opponent to go crazy from behind the arc.

Calipari called Miami's performance - the RedHawks made 15 of 26 3-pointers - somewhat of a fluke and said he was "ecstatic" after the Wildcats rallied from an 18-point deficit to win.

He wasn't quite so cheery when Kentucky failed to put away the Bearkats, a member of the Southland Conference.

The Wildcats never trailed, but the inability to slow down Allmond or get any production from the bench - Kentucky's reserves did not score a single point - left Calipari in a frenzy.

He called timeout after timeout hoping to get his team to play with some defensive intensity. It never happened.

Allmond simply wouldn't let it. He hardly seemed bothered while being guarded by Wall, considered the top freshman in the country. Allmond knocked down eight 3-pointers in the first half alone. Some of the shots were flat-out ridiculous, including a double-pump leaning 3-pointer with Wall all over him.

Kentucky still managed to lead 53-42 at the half then opened the second half on a 7-0 run to push the lead to 18. Yet they simply couldn't get free.

Sam Houston State pulled to 81-73 with 6:58 remaining before one last burst by the Wildcats pushed the lead to 94-77.

Rider 63
Kentucky No. 4/5 92

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Freshman John Wall had 21 points and 11 assists as No. 4 Kentucky dominated Rider 92-63 on Saturday in the Cancun Challenge.

Patrick Patterson added 19 points and a career-high 18 rebounds for the Wildcats (4-0).

Kentucky held Rider (2-2) to 31 percent shooting, blocked 10 shots and forced the Broncos into 20 turnovers.

Ryan Thompson led Rider with 16 points, but the Broncos couldn't find the shooting stroke that helped them win at Mississippi State last week. Rider made just 4-of-17 3-pointers and was never really in it after Wall took over midway through the first half.

The Wildcats allowed 33 3-pointers in narrow escapes over the RedHawks and Bearkats, wins that Calipari said showcased just how far his team has to go.

Kentucky appeared to take important strides against the Broncos, who came in knocking down 48 percent of its 3-pointers.

Kentucky extended its perimeter defense to prevent the kind of open looks that the RedHawks and Bearkats so easily turned into points. Everyone got involved in stopping the 3. At one point 6-foot-11 center DeMarcus Cousins picked up a foul behind the 3-point line for challenging a shot.

Rider didn't make a 3-pointer until Brandon Penn knocked one down from the corner in the first minute of the second half, and by then the Broncos were trailing by 28. Even that wasn't easy, as Penn fell to the floor after UK center Daniel Orton came flying at him.

All the misses led to long rebounds, which allowed Wall to get out on the fast break and show the speed that has some NBA scouts predicting he'll be the top pick in next year's draft.

During one stretch in the first half he completed a flawless 360-degree spin in the lane for a layup and followed it up moments later with a steal, a basket and the foul.

The prettiest move, however, was a coast-to-coast sprint off a Rider miss in which Wall dribbled the ball between his legs at full speed while switching from his left hand to his right hand. He made the layup while absorbing the contact then knocked down the free-throw to put Kentucky 27-14 with 8:16 to go in the first half.

Cousins and fellow freshman center Daniel Orton combined for 32 points and 12 rebounds and Kentucky received plenty of production off the bench after the starters scored all 102 points in the win over Sam Houston State.

Kentucky led 51-26 at the break and never let Rider get within 20 points. UK outscored Rider in the paint 56-20 and had 24 second-chance points.

Moon Palace Resort (832)
Cancun, Mexico • Nov. 24, 2009

Cleveland St. 49
Kentucky No. 5/5 73

CANCUN, Mexico -- Once John Wall gained his footing, not even a warped court could slow down Kentucky.

The heralded freshman found his form in the second half and proved too much to handle in the open floor as the No. 5 Wildcats raced past Cleveland State 73-49 on Tuesday in the Cancun Challenge at the Moon Palace Resort.

Wall scored a team-high 15 points, including 11 after halftime, as he zipped in and out of the Cleveland State defense. The nation's top-rated recruit last year repeatedly took charge with the ball, drawing trips to the free-throw line or setting up teammates for open looks at the basket.

The game was played in unconventional surroundings, with the resort's main ballroom being converted into a makeshift gymnasium.

Chandeliers hung from the low ceiling, two electronic scoreboards were connected to the ceiling by wire cables, and a food buffet sat just a few feet off the end of one baseline. Sections of the hardwood floor had gaps several inches wide and the baseline was a jagged line where the floor did not match up.

The game was chippy and ragged from the start, with both teams talking trash and officials whistling 24 fouls in the first half. A late 3-pointer by 6-foot-10 forward Josh Harrellson stemmed a late Cleveland State run and gave Kentucky a 35-27 lead at the break.

Kentucky (5-0) took control early in the second half when freshman forward DeMarcus Cousins hit a 3 as the shot clock expired, then made five free throws on one possession, aided by an intentional foul called on D'Aundray Brown for grabbing Wall and pulling him to the floor on a breakaway.

By the time Cleveland State (3-2) called a timeout with 13:08 remaining, Kentucky had outscored the Vikings 18-4 in the second half to open a 22-point advantage.

Cousins was whistled for an technical foul for throwing an intentional elbow at Cleveland State's Jared Cunningham with 3:25 remaining after an official warned Cunningham for shoving Cousins in the back seconds earlier.

Kentucky won despite preseason All-American Patrick Patterson finishing with only nine points and five rebounds, both well below his season averages of 19 points and 12.3 rebounds. Patterson played only one minute in the second half but did not appear to have an injury.

Cleveland State was led by Brown's 10 points. Cousins added 14 points and seven rebounds for Kentucky.

Cancun, Mexico • Nov. 25, 2009

Stanford 65
Kentucky No. 5/5 (OT) 73

CANCUN, Mexico -- Freshman sensation John Wall scored a season-best 23 points, including clutch shots in the final minute that sent the game to overtime, and No. 5 Kentucky closed with an eight-point run for a 73-65 victory over gritty Stanford on Wednesday night in the championship game of the Cancun Challenge at the Moon Palace Resort.

Playing his fifth college game, Wall capped a big night with a slam dunk at the final horn, setting off a wild celebration by Kentucky players before a crowd of 1,425.

Wall hit a 12-foot fadeaway jumper from the right wing to tie the score at 61 with 30.6 seconds remaining in regulation, then two free throws with 2.4 seconds left to send the game to overtime.

Fellow freshman Eric Bledsoe made an NBA-length 3-pointer with 33 seconds to go that gave Kentucky a 69-65 lead it did not relinquish.

Stanford's Landry Fields was fouled by Ramon Harris during a scramble and hit both ends of a 1-and-1 to give Stanford a 63-61 lead with 28.2 seconds on the clock.

The Wildcats opted not to call a timeout and went to freshman forward DeMarcus Cousins, who was fouled on the block. The 53.6 percent free throw shooter missed the first free throw and then the second on purpose, but fouled Stanford's Jarrett Mann on the rebound.

Mann, a 53 percent free throw shooter, then missed both of his free-throw attempts, setting up a final flurry. Wall drew a blocking call on Andrew Zimmermann with 2.4 seconds left and calmly swished both free throws to tie it again.

Stanford's full-court pass was batted off the backboard by Patrick Patterson and corralled by Wall to send the game to overtime.

Wall was the only Kentucky player to get going before the break. The freshman had 15 points but could not do all the heavy lifting with preseason All-American forward Patterson going out of the game less than six minutes in with two fouls. Without Patterson's inside presence the Wildcats struggled to get anything in the paint and shot just 35.5 percent from the field.

Patterson got going early in the second half on his way to his 25th career double-double, but he missed two point-blank opportunities on the same possession that would have given Kentucky its first lead since late in the first half with just over 10 minutes left.

He made up for it later, using a power post move to give Kentucky a 54-53 lead with 6:42 to play.

It was only the third meeting between the schools and first since the 1998 NCAA tournament semifinals. Kentucky won that showdown 86-85 in overtime on its way to its seventh - and most recent - national championship.

Kentucky No. 5/4 94

LOUISVILLE, Ky. -- DeMarcus Cousins scored 24 points and grabbed 10 rebounds to lead No. 5 Kentucky to an easy 94-57 win over UNC-Asheville on Monday night.

John Wall added 12 points and a school freshman-record 14 assists, while Patrick Patterson had 17 points and nine boards as the Wildcats (7-0) cruised during their annual appearance at Freedom Hall.

Kentucky had little trouble getting out on the break, where Wall dazzled with a series of alley-oop passes to his teammates while adding a couple of highlight-reel dunks himself.

During a 29-6 burst midway through the 2nd half the Wildcats converted five straight dunks - all on alley-oop passes from Wall.

UK came in averaging 18.6 turnovers a game, a number coach John Calipari attributed to his team's inexperience as it learns his "dribble-drive" offense. The Wildcats gave it away just eight times against the Bulldogs while handing out 28 assists on 36 field goals.

Following a series of early season scares - including an overtime escape against Stanford in the Cancun Challenge finals last week - Kentucky played with the kind of dominance Calipari said would come as soon as his young squad started figuring things out.

The Wildcats certainly looked like they "got it" when Wall was on the floor. He looked for his teammates early and only tried to shoot when the opportunity was too good to pass up.

He kept feeding Cousins in the second half in an effort to help the freshman center shake off a somewhat lackluster performance in Mexico. Cousins had his way with the Bulldogs in the lane as Kentucky used its size to rebound UNC-Asheville 44-31. UK found plenty of easy looks to go around and connected on 52 pct.

The Bulldogs at least got off to a better start than they did against Tennessee, when they made just two field goals in the first half while falling behind the Volunteers by 52 at the break.

UNC-Asheville had 2 baskets by the first media timeout, though the Bulldogs were never really in danger of making it a game.

Wall did his best to provide a little entertainment for what figures to be his only game at Freedom Hall during his collegiate career.

He threw down a wicked reverse dunk on a break and followed it up moments later with another slam after a steal. UNC-Asheville's Primm didn't even bother chasing down the court, trotting once Wall got behind him as the Kentucky star swooped in for the jam.

Wall wasn't perfect, however, botching an alley-oop pass from Miller, one of the few miscues on a night when UK hardly worked up a significant sweat while matching their best start since 2004.

North Carolina No. 10/11 66
Kentucky No. 5/4 68

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- John Wall bounced back from a bout with dehydration and a queasy encounter with an IV drip to finish with 16 points - including the clinching free throws with 4.3 seconds left - to lift the No. 5 Wildcats to a 68-66 victory over the 10th-ranked Tar Heels on Saturday.

Wall dominated at times while helping the Wildcats (8-0) build a 19-point first-half lead, then spent 20 anxious minutes in the training room after cramping up. It took a couple of bottles of Gatorade and a bit of teeth grinding by Wall to get back on the floor.

Kentucky inched closer to becoming the first program to reach 2,000 victories thanks to some clutch free throw shooting by Wall and fellow freshman Eric Bledsoe. The duo combined to make 5 of 6 in the final 30 seconds after the Tar Heels pulled within 63-61.

Consider North Carolina coach Roy Williams convinced, particularly after the Wildcats took control with an explosive 28-2 run in the first half.

"You've got to give them congratulations, they really kicked our butts," Williams said. "They just ran us out of the gym."

The Wildcats snapped a five-game losing streak to the Tar Heels. Forward Patrick Patterson provided some of the grit, finishing with 19 points and seven rebounds to help UK off to its best start since 1992-93, when the Wildcats won their first 11 games.

Deon Thompson led North Carolina with 14 points and Will Graves added 13.

After Thompson's jumper from the corner pulled North Carolina within 63-61, Bledsoe shook off several late-game miscues to knock down a pair of free throws. After Graves missed a 3-pointer and the rebound bounced out off bounds, Bledsoe made one of two to make it 66-61.

A tip-in by Thompson pulled Carolina to 66-63, but Wall finished his breakout performance by calmly sinking two free throws with 4.3 seconds left. Graves hit a meanless 3-pointer at the buzzer, and by then the Wildcats bench had poured onto the floor to celebrate.

Calipari said before the game he was anxious to see how his team responded when it got "punched in the mouth," and still refused to say college basketball's winningest program is back.

The win provided redemption of sorts for Wall, a native of Raleigh, N.C., who grew up wanting to play for the Tar Heels. Though North Carolina pursued him throughout high school, the Tar Heels never offered him a scholarship.

9 Madison Square Garden (15,874)
New York, N.Y. • Dec. 9, 2009

Kentucky No. 4/4 64
UConn No. 14/12 61

New York, N.Y. -- John Wall has played nine games for Kentucky. His latest was his best - and the end of this one showed the freshman guard is as good as advertised.

Wall scored a season-high 25 points, including 12 of his team's last 15, and the fourth-ranked Wildcats beat No. 14 Connecticut 64-61 on Wednesday night in the SEC/Big East Invitational.

What made Wall's performance in his first appearance in Madison Square Garden even more remarkable is that he was saddled with foul trouble in the first half before dominating the game over the final 7 1/2 minutes - even when Connecticut made a defensive switch that slowed him down for a few possessions.

The Wildcats (9-0) moved John Calipari closer to one of the icons at the school that has more wins (1,997) than any other program. The only coach to have a better start to his career at Kentucky was Adolph Rupp, who started 10-0 in 1931.

Jerome Dyson had 17 points for the Huskies (6-2), who finished 14-24 from the free throw line, including 2-4 in the final 3 minutes.

After a first half of runs and big swings, neither team had a lead of more than five points over the final 7 minutes.

Wall's three-point play on a breakaway dunk gave the Wildcats a 54-47 lead with 7:16 left. Stanley Robinson, Connecticut's sky-walking forward, finally became a factor for the Huskies, scoring six straight points. When Gavin Edwards scored on a break dunk with 4:24 to play, Connecticut was within 56-55 with 4:24 to go.

Walker, who had 12 points and six assists, gave the Huskies their final lead of the game on a jumper with 1:12 left.

Wall, who was slowed a bit when Calhoun switched the 6-9 Robinson on him for five possessions, put Kentucky ahead for good on a three-point play when he was fouled hard as he drove to the basket - making it 63-61 with 30 seconds left.

Connecticut called two timeouts then went for the tie as Walker drove and there was a tip by the Huskies as well. But Walker was forced to foul on the rebound, and Ramon Harris made one of two free throws with 13 seconds left.

Edwards missed a forced 3-point attempt, and Walker couldn't get a shot off from the corner in time after corraling the rebound.

Patterson had 16 points for Kentucky, and DeMarcus Cousins added 10 points and 10 rebounds.

There were two totally different halves played in front of the crowd of 15,874, which seemed split down the middle.

Kentucky opened the game with a 12-0 run, and the Huskies scored the next 10 points as part of a run that gave them a 26-18 lead on a drive by Walker with 6:30 left. Connecticut led 29-23 at halftime.

KENTUCKY BASKETBALL

10 Assembly Hall (17,316)
Bloomington, Ind. • Dec. 12, 2009

Kentucky No. 4/4 90
Indiana 73

Bloomington, Ind. -- Indiana took its best shot at No. 4 Kentucky on Saturday. The Wildcats retaliated with a shrug and a knockout punch in a 90-73 victory.

John Wall got the offense in sync, setting up a decisive 18-0 second-half run that gave the Wildcats their first win in Bloomington since 1981. It was just what Kentucky coach John Calipari thought his team needed.

The Wildcats are 10-0, off to their best start since 1992-93, and Calipari has matched the best start for a first-year Kentucky coach since Adolph Rupp in 1930-31.

Kentucky moved within two wins of becoming the first Division I school with 2,000 all-time victories, and perhaps more importantly to Calipari, proved they could fight back when challenged.

Wall, the freshman with the mesmerizing moves, adapted by doing more of the dirty work Saturday. He finished with 11 points, eight below his average, eight assists and seven rebounds. Another freshman, Eric Bledsoe, led Kentucky with 23 points, including four 3-pointers, and junior forward Patrick Patterson was his usual self, scoring 19 points and grabbing 11 rebounds. It was Patterson's fifth double-double of the season.

Not surprisingly, the game between the border rivals came with some new twists. Though the fans fed the Hoosiers energy, the distractions couldn't prevent Kentucky from its eighth win in the last 10 meetings in the series. The teams have been playing on an annual basis but played 15 straight years on neutral courts in Indianapolis and Louisville before going to back to home courts in 2006.

Freshman Maurice Creek scored a season-high 31 points and hit five 3s for Indiana. Nobody else scored more than seven points, and IU was outrebounded 49-24 overall, 21-8 on the offensive end.

In fact, the Hoosiers led for the first half of the first half, right until Patterson missed the second of two free throws, Darius Miller grabbed the rebound and Bledsoe hit a 10-foot fallaway on the baseline to make it 21-19 with 9:33 left. The Wildcats then extended the lead to 38-30.

After Jeremiah Rivers made a nifty driving layup to give Indiana a 48-47 lead, Wall scored on an athletic alley-oop dunk. Kentucky then hit a 3 or converted three-point plays on four of their next five scoring possessions to make it 65-48.

Austin Peay 69
Kentucky No. 3/3 90

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Patrick Patterson scored 21 points, including nine during a decisive second-half run, and No. 3 Kentucky beat Austin Peay 90-69 on Saturday.

John Wall added 17 points and six assists while DeMarcus Cousins had 19 points and eight rebounds for the Wildcats (11-0), who moved within one victory of becoming the first college basketball program to reach 2,000.

Wesley Channels led the Gobs (7-5) with 21 points but Austin Peay couldn't keep up once Patterson got going. The junior forward took control during a 12-0 run midway through the second half that gave Kentucky an 82-61 lead.

The win pushed Kentucky coach John Calipari past Adolph Rupp in the school record book for the best start by a first-year head coach. Rupp won his first 10 games in 1931.

Austin Peay cut a 16-point deficit to 49-43 early in the second half on a play in which even Wall looked human. Wall got tangled up with Austin Peay's Caleb Anthony at midcourt, with Anthony coming out with the ball while Wall writhed on the ground in pain.

Wall rolled on the floor for a couple of anxious moments before limping to the bench. He returned a couple of minutes later, but was sent back to the bench after sustaining a cut over his left eye while driving to the basket. Trainers hastily put a bandage over Wall's eye and he appeared to have no problem with it.

Patterson started the run with a layup off a nice pass from Daniel Orton, then added the free throw after getting fouled. His two most spectacular points of the day came moments later thanks to a little bit of ad-libbing by Wall.

Eric Bledsoe was leading the Kentucky break when he hit a streaking Wall for what appeared to be an alley-oop. Wall had other ideas, touching the ball to Patterson for a dunk.

Patterson added a tip-in on Kentucky's next possession and Darnell Dodson followed with a 3-pointer to push it to 80-61 before Patterson capped the run with a pair of free throws.

The crowd stirred when Liggins made his way to the scorer's table 6 minutes in, then roared when he was introduced, perhaps a nod to Liggins' perseverance. Liggins didn't waste any time making an impact. He tipped in Wall's miss to give the Wildcats an 18-11 lead, then had a 3-pointer roll out moments later.

The boost helped Kentucky take a 49-35 halftime lead, and the Wildcats used their size to keep it intact. They outscored Austin Peay 44-16 in the paint, 26-16 on second-chance points and made all 18 free throws.

Drexel 44
Kentucky No. 3/3 88

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- Kentucky's 2,000th victory looked awfully familiar. DeMarcus Cousins and Patrick Patterson scored 18 points apiece and the third-ranked Wildcats became the first team in NCAA history to reach the 2,000-win plateau with an 88-44 romp over Drexel on Monday night.

Kentucky improved to 2,000-635-1 in 107 seasons. North Carolina is next on the list with 1,992 wins while Kansas has 1,980.

"We weren't a part of many of those 2,000 wins and we had a job to do and that was drag us across the line before that other blue team got there," coach John Calipari said. "This is a special moment for this program and this state."

Samme Givens led Drexel (6-6) with 11 points, but the Dragons shot just 31 percent from the field and spent most of the game as invited guests to Kentucky's celebration.

The first win was an 11-10 squeaker over the Lexington YMCA on Feb. 18, 1903. It took Kentucky 66 years to reach 1,000 victories. Students celebrated the milestone with cake alongside legendary coach Adolph Rupp at Memorial Coliseum in 1969.

This party was a little bigger. Confetti showered the court moments after the final buzzer while players donned black T-shirts commemorating the occasion.

The Wildcats needed just 40 years to reach the next millennium, a ride that included three national titles and a recruiting scandal under former coach Eddie Sutton.

The program was revived under Rick Pitino during the 1990s, and for the last few years Kentucky's march toward 2,000 seemed to be a foregone conclusion.

Before a crowd that included Gov. Steve Beshear, former coach Joe B. Hall and program luminaries like Kenny Walker and Jamal Mashburn, Kentucky dominated from the opening tip.

The Wildcats shot 53 pct, outrebounded Drexel 45-22 and didn't let up until the lead neared 50 midway through the second half.

Wall did a little bit of everything, finding Cousins for open baskets early as the Wildcats raced to a quick 15-3 lead, then showing his breathtaking ability in the open court as Kentucky pulled away.

He scored the last six points of the half, all with a relatively high degree of difficulty, including one in which he wrapped the ball behind his back from his left hand to his right hand at full speed before putting it in off the glass.

The Wildcats led 56-20 at the break. When Patterson opened the second half with a 3-pointer, the crowd started holding up signs like "UK2K" and counting the minutes until the program's spot in the history books was secure.
